WE NOMINATE

Donovan Bernard Quigley, 30-year old career officer in the United States Navy and for the past three years a member of Princeton University's Department of Naval Science, who has effectively demonstrated that a short-term resident of Princeton can become an active rather than a passive, or inert, partner in community life. This week—almost on the eve of departing for new assignments with the Armed Forces—Quigley was accorded the honor of being installed as Grand Knight, or ranking officer, of the Princeton Council of the Knights of Columbus.

In meriting a distinction traditionally conferred upon long-time Princetonians with years of community associations, Quigley culminated a remarkable 'integration process" which found him, together with his wife, playing increasingly significant roles in service groups. Quigley, a moving force in the youth activities of the Knights of Columbus, also helped implement the youth program of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church and became secretary of the Holy Name Society. St. Paul's men's organization. During his residency, his interests embraced the Boy Scouts, the American Legion and a number of area-wide charitable drives.

A native of Chippewa Falls, Wisc., and an alumnus of Marquette University, Quigley is a product of the "new" Navy which annually draws many of its outstanding junior officers from the Nation's colleges and universities as well as from Federally-sustained institutions and training installations. The "Holloway Plan," enabling selected officer candidates to study at civilian colleges under contract with the Navy, made it possible for him to attend Marquette. In 1950, after combining science and philosophy with football and the Naval ROTC, he was graduated as one of the first "Holloway Ensigns."

Quigley, now the father of two sons and two daughters, launched his naval career as a destroyer deck officer in the Korean Conflict and was subsequently assigned to the Naval Air Training Command. A "fly boy" for the past seven years, with extensive experience in two and four-engine craft, he served for two years with an Atlantic Fleet Patrol Squadron and, before reporting for campus duty, was assigned to the staff of the Commander of the Atlantic Fleet Wings with primary responsibility for the operation of the command communications center that linked 25 squadrons and some 8,000 men.

As an "academician," with the rank of assistant professor, Quigley taught third-year courses in Naval Engineering and Navigation and Nautical Astronomy and also handled several special academic assignments, including the editing of a new engineering text and the drafting of an engineering and navigation curriculum for the entire 53-college Naval ROTC complex. From here he moves westward for a brief stint at Northwestern University, where new instructors entering the NROTC system are trained by a hand-picked faculty. In September he reports to a Norfolk-based patrol squadron concerned with anti-submarine missions.

For contributing to Princeton Life instead of "simply living in the community" for a prescribed tour of duty; for finding satisfaction in the "feeling of taking something away from Princeton;" for strengthening the sense of unity which is all-important in the area of civilian-military relations; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

MARATHON MEETING

Township Splits Session. The Township Committee this week took some giant steps into the future and rehashed a controversial problem from the immediate past at a marathon meeting that had to be recessed at midnight Monday until Tuesday night. Total elapsed time of the two sessions: five hours. It marked the first time within memory that the committee's workload has forced a double session.

The meeting's most controversial moments came when representatives of the Kingston Trap Rock Co. appeared to ask the committee to rescind, or at least modify, its May 19 resolution requesting stricter state controls and more self-policing over the company's blasting operations. Area residents, particularly in the Autumn Hill section, claim the blasting has caused serious damages to their homes, most of which are nearly a mile from the firm's quarry.

Attorney John McCarthy, representing the company, charged the committee had unfairly acted on the basis of nine affidavits from homeowners without advising the company of the pending action and giving it an opportunity to defend itself. While he agreed with committeemen that the resolution does not technically say that Kingston's blasting caused damage, Mr. McCarthy said he felt the wording of the document was prejudicial to the firm's reputation.

Asa Farr, vice-president of the company, denied claims by Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Alpert, 190 Autumn Hill Road, that their fire insurance had been cancelled because of concussion damage. Mr. Farr said the Alperts' insurance company has given him an affidavit stating the policy was cancelled because Autumn Hill Road does not provide proper access for fire engines.

SINGIN' IN THE RAIN: Susan Pearson, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pearson, 187 Valley Road, welcomes the needed break in the weather.

Counter Claim. Mr. Farr's statement on the insurance matter was labeled a "blatant untruth" by Mrs. Alpert after the meeting. Township Clerk Joseph Nini confirmed that his office has on file a photostat of a letter to the Alperts from the American Insurance Group of Newark. In this letter, the insurance company lists "blasting uncertainties" as the cause of the cancellation, adding: "We wish to be relieved of liability."

Jack S. Specht, vice-president of the Vibration Engineering Co., Inc., told the committee that seismographic tests conducted in the area by his firm have yielded readings well below the minimum levels which could cause damage to homes. A seismograph will be placed i nthe Alperts' home on the dates of all primary blasts for the next six months. Meanwhile, the committee accepted affidavits from Mr. Specht, Mr. Farr and other Kingston officials stating the company's side of the issue.

Recreation Group Authorized. The committee approved a resolution establishing an autonomous Board of Recreation Commissioners to develop and operate a Township recreation program and to implement the recommendations on recreation of the Master Plan and the Joint Citizens' Advisory Committee on Recreation. Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman said he will appoint five persons to serve on the board in time to announce their names at the committee's August 10 meeting.

Committeeman Stanley C. Smoyer said the new board will be similar in set-up to the present Borough Library Board, in that it will have broad independent powers in administrative matters, although its budget and any proposals for land purchase will be controlled by the Township Committee.

The board's jurisdiction was extended even before its members were named as the committee passed on first reading an ordinance appropriating $7,500 for the grading and development for recreational purposes of three acres of Township land to the east of the Shopping Center. The plot is part of a seven and a half acre tract owned by the Township. The entire tract is expected to be developed eventually.

Does Love Mnr A Sidewalk? This question came up in a letter addressed to the committee from Henry J. Frank, 273 Jefferson Road. In his long list of pavement defects on Valley Road sidewalks, Mr. Frank included the phrase, "D.H. Loves M.M.," which he said was scribbled in the concrete at one point. Township Engineer Calvin Schofield said the contractor has been instructed to repair the defective walks, but doubted whether the phrase mentioned could be considered a "defect."

approved on second reading, while similar ordinances concerning part of Poe Road, Portico Lane, part of Maxwell Lane, part of Grover Avenue, part of Cedar Lane and Terhune Road were approved on first reading.

Other Business. At the request of attorney Thomas P. Cook, a $1,000 maintenance bond on Clover Lane was released. Princeton Construction Co. is the contractor . . . The committee passed on second reading an ordinance appropriating $1,900 of Township funds for the construction of a footpath from the southerly edge of Rosedale Road to the temporary turnaround on Edgerstoune Road.

An ordinance permitting the expenditure of $3,100, to be raised by assessment, for the construction of sewers along the rear line of lots on Harrison Street North near Ewing Street was tabled to allow the Township attorney to negotiate for right of way . . . $4,000 was authorized for the construction of curbs on the east side of Riverside Drive West between Nassau Street and Prospect Avenue and on the south side of Magnolia Lane.

After more than an hour of discussion, the committee passed on second reading an ordinance appropriating $13,225, 50 percent of which will be raised by assessment, to build sidewalks in the area of the new Riverside School on Riverside Drive West, Sycamore Road and Magnolia Lane . . . B. Franklin Bunn was reappointed to a six-year term on the Planning Board.

A public hearing was scheduled for the August 10 meeting on an ordinance accepting streets in the Princeton Custom Homes development into the Township roads system. Streets involved are Monroe Road, the southerly portion Randall Road and that part of Grover Avenue which lies within the development . . . Gordon Griffin, Township attorney, and Mr. Sooyer were named Township representatives to the group studying the possibility of a Joint Borough-Township library commission.

An ordinance accepting Herrontown Circle as a public street and authorizing the assessment of $45,000 to construct the area's long-discussed sewer line was approved on first reading. Committeeman William Marvel said there would be further investigation of the costs involved before the ordinance comes up for public hearing on August 10.

Mr. Marvel pointed out that a water line must also be built on Herrontown Circle soon and the combined per-lot cost "is going to be pretty tough." . . . Olindo Carnevale, who has completed a year as a probationary officer, was appointed to the rank of patrolman on the Township police force.

PERSONALITIES

R. Norman Wood, 88 Olden Avenue, who this week was named head coach of hockey at Princeton University, a brief five years after he had completed a standout career in the sport as a Harvard undergraduate. (See page 21 for complete details.)

Mathilde McKinney, The Great Road, and Edward T. Cone, 1 Queenston Place, who this week delighted a McCosh 10 audience with an unusual four-hand, one-piano recital that marked the second in the series of concerts planned for the University Players' Summer Festival. (For TOWN TOPICS' review, see Music in Princeton, page 8.)

ROUNDUP

As if commuters didn't have enough problems, ranging from pesky parking meters to late-running trains, Wilder Hobson, 94 Valley Road, experienced added unpleasantness this week . . . as the P.J. & B. was crossing the trestle Monday night at 7:15, an unidentified rifleman (using either "BB" shot or a .22 bullet) broke a window in the train, cutting Mr. Hobson with the flying glass.

Princeton Municipal Improvement has completed its house razing, having levelled two more last week in the Chambers-John Street area . . . five in all were demolished to provide space for a total of 190 cars, which will use the "long-term" lot on a monthly basis.

Tuesday's rain quelled a growing drought, at least temporarily . . . whereas only .06 inches fell in the first 13 days of the month, the 14th was worth an inch plus to all us perched peasants . . . temperature continued its wide fluctuation, going from a low of 52 to a high of 88 (the latter on Saturday), with the humidity generally higher than desirable.

Police finished one ahead of the game in this week's stolen car derby . . . they broke even on a pickup truck owned by William Saunders, 12 Berrien Court, when it was stolen from the rear of 158 Witherspoon and found the following day in Trenton . . . same day, the car reported here last week as owned by a West Reading, Penna., resident and taken from 17 Witherspoon Street was located on Church Lane, Kingston.

Two borough policemen found the influence of TV westerns extending to Princeton last week when they had to round up a pair of elusive horses . . . the animals, owned by Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, 87 Olden Lane, broke out of the ROTC stable where they

MEANDERING MEETING

Of Borough Council, Tuesday evening's 80-minute session of Mayor and Council found the "Borough Fathers" pondering, or skimming over, a near-incredible variety of matters ranging from humdrum committee reports to a possible November referendum on a Joint Borough-Township Library Operation, to the "tax-deductibility" of a home bomb-shelter.

Of paramount interest to both Borough and Township is the strong possibility that the General Election in November will bring voters face-to-face with the question of whether or not Borough and Township will be permitted to share jointly the costs of operating the public library rather than to perpetuate the present antiquated system, with the Township reimbursing the Borough for services rendered.

Enabling legislation authorizing such a referendum is scheduled for summer approval in Trenton. Mayor Male designated Finance Chairman Richard A. Lester and Borough Attorney John F. McCarthy Jr. to work out the necessary details with their Township counterparts, Stanley C. Smoyer and Gordon D. Griffin.

Engineering Appointments. Two new names were added to the roster of the Engineering Department, Bernard Glover, 39, a lifelong resident of Princeton, and Thomas J. Cawley, 29, currently associated with the New York Telephone Company. The former will fill the newly created post of Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, while Cawley will become First Assistant to Borough Engineer Brokaw.

Mr. Glover, a member of Princeton High School's Class of 1938 and a Purple Heart World War II veteran, has been associated with several leading construction companies, including the Matthews and Tower companies. He was the job-supervisor for the Hook & Ladder Firehouse and Borough Garage on North Harrison Street.

Mr. Cawley, who holds his Professional Engineer-in-Training license in New York, is a graduate of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn and has completed graduate work in the City College of New York. He has been with N. Y. Telephone for the past three years, working in close cooperation with Long Island municipal engineers.

"The Home Front." The community's long-working Director of Civil Defense and Disaster Control, Captain Geoffrey Sage, USN-Ret., reported on developments in his area of specialization, emphasizing the growing importance of developing a communications system providing complete coverage for Township and Borough.

Out of Captain Sage's survey, in which he said "we are now drafting our own operational plan," came discussion of individual home shelters, the tax status of such facilities and a "new communications net" linking the police departments, the fire department and the First Aid Squad. He made a strong plea for the extension of the Borough's fire-alarm system into the "alarm-less Township."

Traffic Thought. From Councilman Lester came the strong recommendation that the Borough immediately consider acquiring from the University whatever section of the "Duryea Property, corner of Nassau Street and Olden, which might not be utilized in the construction of the Universitys $8,000,000 Engineering Quadrangle on the present site of University Field."

Whatever land might be acquired, Dr. Lester said, would enable the Borough to develop an already-mapped one-way access into (or out of) the interior of the deep lots fronting on the south side of Nassau Street between Olden and Murray. Such an acquisition, in addition to providing needed off-street parking, would also permit the elimination of traffic-clogging parking on the south side of Nassau.

Matters of Moment. Other matters catching the attention of Council and a smattering of Borough residents in attendance:

- Either the Borough or Township will gain an additional plenary liquor consumption license in view of the ruling of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission that the Princeton Inn's license, traditionally issued jointly by both municipalities, must be allocated to one in the near future.
- Police Chief Mondone's searching six-page report was highlighted by details pertaining to the forward movement of the newly created Detective and Identification Bureau under the direction of Detective George J. Knowles.
- Tax Assessor Warren has ruled that, effective October 1, Princeton Hospital's Medical Arts Building, tax-exempt since its opening, will be placed on the tax-rolls.

$517 REPORTED STOLEN

From Service Station. Borough Detective George J. Knowles is investigating the theft of $517.14 from the Gulf service station at Nassau and Maple Streets. The theft, which took place July 4, was not reported to police until July 7.

Donald Petrowski, an attendant at the station, told police he placed the money, half cash and half checks, on the cash register, planning to deposit it in the bank. When he returned to the office from waiting on a customer, he said, the money was gone. Police located the checks behind the service station on Monday. The cash is still missing.

Copper Ante

Mayor Male, in connection with the Borough's continuing study of parking problems and parking-meter receipts, reported Tuesday night that the municipality since the first meters were installed in September, 1950, has grossed $439,799.13, an overall average of 25c per day per meter.

With a total of 910 meters now in operation, there was no final reckoning on how much has been accumulated through overtime parking fines, although in recent years they have been averaging about $10,000 per 12 months.

NO LICENSE, 10 DAYS

For Township Resident. Raymond Johnston, 30, of Pretty Brook Road, will spend the next ten days in Mercer County jail because he drove a car without a license.

The matter was called to police attention because Mr. Johnston overturned and the car went down an embankment. He told Magistrate Louis R. Gerber that he swerved to avoid striking a 'possum, but the accident brought a careless driving charge and a $30 fine.

Miss Alice Bach, 17, 46 Fackler Road, Lawrenceville, paid a $15 careless driving fine. Paul Morrow, 220 Johnson Avenue, Lawrenceville, was fined $30 and given a 60-day workhouse sentence for damage done in a bar. The jail term was suspended on the condition that he pay $54 for a broken mirror and glass counter top in two weeks' time.

CUNNINGHAM FINED

Must Pay Damages. Joseph Cunningham of 256 John Street was fined $25 in Borough Court Monday night after conviction of malicious injury to property. In addition, he was told he must pay $35 more unless he replaces damaged clothes belonging to his wife, Gladys. Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. also convicted Mortimer Kelly, New York City, of assault and battery growing out of an incident during reunion weekend, but withheld sentencing until the next session.

In traffic cases, Magistrate Tams penalized William D. Cavanaugh, 21, 34 Witherspoon Lane, $30 and 60-day license revocation for speeding and disregarding a stop sign; Ralph A. Richardson, 30, 26½ Leigh Avenue, $14 for speeding, and Genesio Pinelli, 20, 38 Jefferson Road, $30 for careless driving and carrying a passenger on the outside of his car.

CAMP'S BARN BURNS

Children Safe. More than 75 5-to 12-year-old children were calmly led to safety Tuesday morning as fire raged through a storage barn at the Clearbrook Day Camp in Hopewell. The blaze, which leveled the barn, caused damage estimated at $25,000.

A Matter Of Taste

A geranium that's thirsty
And just about to fade,
Would rather have a raindrop
Than a glass of lemonade.
—CONNOISSEUR

It was rain, not lemonade, that doused Princeton this week: a good two inches of it. Green Thumbs and farmers were happy, stay-at-homes had enough and vacationers had it.

It might take all the way to Saturday to get lingering showers out of the area, the Man said. Rising temperature and humidity, too. The weekend, however, looked about right.

Fire companies from Hopewell and Blawenburg finally brought the fire under control. The barn was used for storage of refrigerating equipment, tools and other machinery.

The camp is operated by Mrs. Helen Cleary and Mrs. Constance Brook under the supervision of the Trenton Christian Camp Association. While no definite cause for the blaze was found, Horace A. Reading, president of the TCCA, speculated that the barn may have been struck by lightning during an electrical storm in that area.

SPORTSMEN TO HOLD DANCE

Buffet Supper Planned. The Princeton Italian-American Sportsmen's Club will hold its regular monthly buffet supper dance Saturday at 9 p.m. The evening for which music will be furnished by Charles Covert, will cost $5 per couple. Sam Nini and Jack Petrone, co-chairmen, have announced that tickets are available at the door, or at University Radio-Electric, Liggett's Drug Store and the Princeton Garden Center.

Recently-elected president H.P. Petrozzini urged that all members should attend the next three regular meetings. They will be held on Thursday, July 23, August 13 and August 27.

25-YEAR MEN SLATE OUTING

At Squatter's Grove. Some 60 members of Princeton's 25-year club, composed of men who have served 25 years or more with Princeton University's Department of Grounds and Buildings, will attend the club's annual outing and business meeting Thursday afternoon at 5 p.m. at Squatter's Grove on Quaker Road.

Five retiring employees of the Department of Grounds and Buildings will be guests of honor. They are Harold Conover, Frank DiGiovanni, Dominic Germania, Chester Lawton and William Reep.

AT LAWRENCE DRIVE-IN: Robert Taylor and Tina Louise appear in "The Hangman," co-featured with "The Angry Hills," starring Robert Mitchum, at the Lawrence Drive-in from Sunday through Tuesday.

News Of The THEATRES

A review of "Waiting for Godot," current University Players' production, appears on page 10.

PLAYERS LIST SHAW PLAY

"Philanderer" to Open Tuesday. George Bernard Shaw's play "The Philanderer," a blast at idealistic cults, will run at Murray Theatre from Tuesday through Saturday as the University Players' fourth play in their Summer Festival season.

Written in 1893, the play is a satire on "new" men and women who hastened to abandon conventional morality in the wake of the turmoil stirred up the the misunderstood Norwegian playwright Henrik Ibsen. John Wynne-Evans, Joan Hackett and James Harder will star in the production. All three were featured in last week's "The Play's the Thing."

Philip Minor will direct "The Philanderer." Mr. Minor has already handled Shaw when he directed the Player's performance of "Heartbreak House" in 1957, and "Missalliance" last year.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Horse Soldiers (July 15-21) was booked by the Playhouse to replace "John Paul Jones," which will be shown instead at the Garden at the end of the month. Starring John Wayne and William Holden and presenting the attractive Constance Towers in her first major role, "The Horse Soldiers" is a romanticized dramatization of some true Civil War events.

The film opens with the war going badly for the Union forces and Grant stymied outside of Vicksburg. Wayne is assigned to undertake the dangerous task of probing deep into Southern territory to cut off the supply line to Vicksburg. Accompanying him on the mission is Holden, an army surgeon, for whom Wayne from the first displays little affection. On the trek south, the Union detachment stops for the night at a plantation occupied by Miss Towers and her maid, tennis star Althea Gibson. When it becomes apparent that Miss Towers is aware of the plan, Wayne decides, with Hollywood logic, that he will have to take her along with him. (In real life, we bet, he would have had her shot summarily.) There follows a variation on the stock Western love plot — "You're tough, Zeke, tough and hard and selfish and stupid and wretched; but I love you, do you hear me" — but this is not, happily, allowed to get in the way of the war. The color and pageantry of the southward march, culminating in the destruction of a key bridge at Baton Rouge, is presented excitingly and realistically. Meanwhile, back in the pup tent, the incipient romance courses along. The whole thing ends happily, in that the North wins the war.

Ask Any Girl (July 22-25) features Shirley MacLaine, David Niven and Gig Young, all of them in fine form, in a perceptive and witty satire on motivation research, ad agencies, New York nightlife, women's residence hotels, the Beat Generation and just about everything else that happens to pass across the screen. Furthermore, the film generates the same kind of sophisticated warmth as did "The Tender Trap," and it's funnier.

The plot is simple: Miss MacLaine, an intriguing but innocent dish from Wilkes-Barre, comes to the big city to find whatever it is girls from Wilkes-Barre come to the big city to find. After fending off a number of tweeded wolves, she takes a job smoking cigarettes for an ad agency which is doing motivation research on a strawberry-flavored filter. Her bosses are a pair of brothers, Niven and Young. Shirley falls in love with Gig. When her affection is not returned, she gets together with Niven and the two of them apply the principles of the hidden persuaders in an effort to bring Gig around. Niven pilfers his brother's little black book and he and Shirley analyze the features of each girl to whom Young is attracted. This accomplished, Shirley tries making herself over into an agglomerate of all the girls Young has ever liked.

the principals are supported by a fine script from George Wells. Miss MacLaine is particularly entrancing, displaying the combination of elfin naivete and frank sexiness that has served her so well in the last year or two. The film is in CinemaScope and color. Recommended.

THE GARDEN

From Here to Eternity (July 16-18), the multiple Academy Award winner starring Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Clift, Deborah Kerr, Donna Reed, Frank Sinatra and Ernest Borgnine, should provide the high spot in the Garden's summer policy of three-day re-runs for distinguished older films. No wispy hot weather diversion, the film is a taut, compelling exploration of life in the peacetime army at Pearl Harbor prior to the outbreak of World War II.

This was the picture that presented Frank Sinatra in his first serious, non-singing role and catapulted The Thin One's career out of the doldrums. Sinatra's piercing, Oscar-winning portrayal of Maggio, the tough but benign Italian private who is ultimately beaten to death by a brutal prison guard (Borgnine), is perhaps the best among the uniformly excellent performances from the stars. Adapted from James Jones' powerful but undisciplined novel, "From Here to Eternity" is one of those rare films that is markedly better than the book from which it was taken. This is one to see. Recommended.

Houseboat (July 20-22), a year-old VistaVision, Technicolor production starring Cary Grant and Sophia Loren, is a pleasant, warm little yarn about Miss Loren's efforts to help Grant care for his motherless brood of three. The family lives in a houseboat on the Potomac, wherein lay the inspiration for the film's title.

Miss Loren, as fetching as ever, is the daughter of a famous Italian conductor. In an attempt to escape her father's strict control, she signs up as maid with the Grant vessel. The actual purchase of the boat is arranged by Harry Guardino, a burly truck driver who falls for Miss Loren but scampers off in an amusing scene when he thinks she has marriage on her mind. Following his departure, the film gets down to the serious business of mating Miss Loren and Grant, and complications arise when the kids observe the pair in their big clinch scene. Martha Hyers, Grant's sister-in-law, finally points the way to the happy resolution.

Most of the plot developments are transparent from the beginning, but it's still fun to see Grant and Miss Loren, one of the screen's more attractive couples, work them out. Jay Livingston and Ray Evans have contributed two unspectacular but affable songs, "Almost in Your Arms" and "Bing, Bang, Bong," which Miss Loren performs in bell-like tones. In sum, "Houseboat" is entertaining summer fare.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Gentlemen:

I protest the flip manner in which you reported the case of Mr. Cohen versus Mrs. Niese's dog. It is precisely this attitude which has allowed dogs in Princeton to roam the countryside and destroy property.

Mr. Cohen should be commended for having the courage to do something about the dog situation in Princeton.

Editor's Note: TOWN TOPICS' treatment of the flower-mistaken-for-a-hydrant was flip but impartial. No attempt was made to judge the case; the publicity it was given should help deter uncurbed canine cantering.

IN FROM THE FIELDS

Corn, Tomatoes, Beans. The pleasures of eating freshly picked vegetables without the chores of home gardening are yours if you drive down the Lawrenceville Road to Peterson's Market, just this side of Province Line.

The produce in this roadside market is picked from a farm at Chesterfield, near Bordentown, and Mr. Peterson starts picking down there at 4:30 every morning, bringing his fresh corn, beans, limas, tomatoes and squash up to Princeton just about the time you're having breakfast coffee.

The corn you buy is all yellow corn, a different variety every two or three days. You may get FM Cross, Iowa Chief, Lincoln, Golden Cross — all of it long-eared, firm, and fresh, its even rows like perfect teeth.

Tomatoes in variety, too, laid out in a single-layered mosaic of ripeness: some ready to eat right now, others for tomorrow, a few for later in the week. You'll like the pattern of red, pink and green they make in the broad, shallow display table.

There are transparent cooking apples, fat little baskets of lima beans, sour red pie cherries as big as Bings, slim green beans, a bin of curving zucchini next to a bin of solid yellow summer squash.

Later, there will be Peterson cantaloupes and peaches. Right now, you can buy beets, yams and sweet potatoes, scallions and carrots.

The shopper at Peterson's takes a big grape basket from a pile and does her own self-service marketing, not forgetting of course, that inside the shed there are Jersey eggs, fresh every morning.

Lay the Burlap. New tablecloths at Stone's Linen Shop are made of good, honest burlap, stamped with nice bright pictures of wine bottles, grape leaves, salad bowls, and the like, all in red.

There are two oblong cloths, one 54 by 72, the other 54 by 90 ($3.50 and $4.50) and a 72-inch round one ($6.95). The oblong ones have a red frame in the center, about where a center piece would be; the round one has thick white cotton fringe all around the edge. Apparently you buy oblong or round depending on the kind of informal meals you traditionally serve, because the salad - wine - cheesecloth is the oblong one and the barbecue-raw vegetable-mustard-pot one is the fringed round cloth. Use linen napkins.

The cook will wear a mushroom-shaped cook's hat in white with red checked band and a matching apron ($2.95 a set). Or, depending on his temperament at the moment, he may choose his brown and tan ticking apron (no, the apron does not tick: it is made of ticking) with its mustard-colored pocket and its sign: "H.R.R. King of the Kitchen."

Small aprons say, in stencil, "Behind this apron is the world's greatest cook," or in red and white, "Help Wanted," or in the black of despair, "Permanent KP." These aprons are $3.95.

You can tell a woman's apron from a man's because it has no bib top. Apparently the woman who cooks is skillful enough to keep grease from spattering above the waist. The clumsier male has got to be covered all over.

For a seamstress, Stone's has a sewing apron with a 36-inch measure sewn along the hem. A row of four pockets goes across the middle, bearing the legend, "A Stitch in Time." There's a felt scissors case and two pincushions, one an emery strawberry.

Plastic place mats at Stone's have been treated to non-skid foam rubber backing. One, oval or oblong, has formal scrolls around the edge, smaller at one side and graduating to larger loops on the other. Comes in pale pastels, lemon, blue or pink and also white. Three linen napkins are included in the set.

Three raging tiger cubs behind bars decorate the place mat of a younger member of the family. Each one dolar mat says "Don't feed the animals."

For travelers, Stone has a three-piece lingerie set in white satin with royal blue butterfly appliqué. There's a small drum to match, one side for jewels, one for sewing things. A hosiery case harmonizes, but does not belong to the set; it's white trapunto.

"Hot-rods" are now available in cases for men or women. Each case, you will recall from your previous travels, holds two cups, two containers for instant coffee or tea, two spoons and one "hot-rod" unit to bring water to a boil. A plastic zip case is for ladies, a plaid one for men. There is also a model that can be used in the cigarette lighter of your car.

Even though it's mid-summer, you can still buy a lightweight summer blanket. Stone's are combinations: one-third nylon and two-thirds wool, or 80 per cent orlon and 20 percent wool.

Rusty?

The removal of rust from fabrics or from tile and porcelain can be one of the most discouraging jobs on a homemaker's agenda. The A & P in the Shopping Center now carries a rust stain remover called Whink which will remove rust, but considerately leave the fabric behind.

Whink comes in a rust-colored squeeze bottle. You can squeeze out a few drops on any white or colored fabric that is safe in water. When the stain disappears, you rinse the garment thoroughly and there you are.

For sinks or toilet bowls, you turn a spray of Whink over the rust stain and watch it vanish as the liquid runs down over it. As you have probably deduced, Whink is dilute hydrofluoric acid, mostly, and should be treated with respect.

Eece Home. At Zinder's, among the baseball bats and water pistols, you will find Man. He's plastic, 12 inches tall and built like something out of a medical school class-room.

So far as we could tell, he is hollow inside and comes apart

MUSIC ON A SUMMER NIGHT

Duo-Pianists Perform. Two of Princeton's many gifted pianists, Mathilde McKinney and Edward T. Cone, gave a recital of duet music Monday night in McCosh 10 as the second concert of the University Players' Summer Festival.

It was an evening of fireworks music: brilliantly executed, full of pyrotechnics and portentious thunders; sparkling, witty and perfectly suited to the light heart of a summer night.

Harold Shapero's Sonata was probably the most successful of the program's four selections. This 1941 work, occasionally reminiscent of Debussy in its soft, slow portions, is mostly wit and bravado.

It is fast and dynamic and it requires super-human coordination on the part of its two performers. Mrs. McKinney and Mr. Cone met its technical challenges with ease and Mrs. McKinney added her own playful grace-note to the end of the "Slowly" movement.

The program also included Schubert's Allegro, Opus 144 "Lebenssturme," which served chiefly to demonstrate one of the reasons for writing four-hand music: getting as much volume out of a piano as possible.

The evening began with Mozart's Sonata in F, Major, K. 497, and with the first slow notes of the Adagio the piano team showed that it could play as one. Mendelssohn's Allegro Brilliante, Opus 92 brought the regular program to a close. The Mozart, handicapped somewhat by the unavoidable heaviness of four hands, was on the husky side, but scherzo passages in the Schubert and the opening measures of the Mendelssohn were light as a summer breeze.

To the delight of the audience, the pianists followed the regular program with that wonderful old duet war-horse, the "Marche Militaire" of Schubert, playing it with a velocity and an incandescence that few piano students achieve. And then, as if to show that the whole evening had been mere child's play, they wound it all up with Bizet's "Jeux d'Enfants."

MRS. HARSANYI TO SING

In Summer Concert. Janice Harsanyi, soprano, will sing Monday evening at 8:30 in 10 McCosh Hall as the University Players present the third in their series of summer concerts. Mrs. Harsanyi is the wife of Nicholas Harsanyi, director of the Princeton Symphony Orchestra.

She has sung under the batons of Eugene Ormandy, Thomas Scherman and Leopold Stokowski as well as that of her husband. Next season, she will appear four times as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra and with the Princeton Symphony in a performance of Roger Sessions' "Idyl of Theocritus."

In her Monday recital, Mrs. Harsanyi will sing songs by Purcell, Handel, Schubert, Schumann, Grieg, Debussy and Chausson as well as arias by Sessions and Gershwin. Richard Cumming, composer for the University Players, will be her accompanist.

THIRD CONCERT FRIDAY

By Community Band. The Princeton Community Band will give its third concert of the summer season Friday at 7:30 p.m. on the lawn in front of Nassau Hall. The band is directed by Bruce McKinney.

The program will include Giovanni Gabrielli's Sonata in Eight Parts; Darius Milhaud's Suite Francaise, which is composed of five sections; Bach's Prelude and Fugue in B-flat Minor; March, Opus 99, by Prokofieff; the John Philip Sousa march, the Gladiators; and selections from "Gigi," by Frederick Lowe arranged by Robert Bennett.

The Gabrielli Sonata will be led by guest conductor Richard Gurstenberger, a member of the music faculty at Douglass College. In the event of rain, the concert will be postponed to Monday evening.

lengthwise rather like a hoy. You take him apart and then fit him with all his organs. The organs, also plastic and colored a sort of ox-blood, come separately in an envelope. Shake them out on the table and then put liver, stomach, gall bladder and so on, where they belong inside the transparent man. Mind you don't give him indigestion.

Remco keeps the boys outdoors this summer with camping equipment. There's a big "Marine Raider" set with pop tent, poles, pegs and ropes, canteen, helmet and mess kit for $7.98. Junior officers may have the "Overnight Maneuvers" kit with sleeping bag, helmet, canteen and mess kit ($6.50) and the buck privates can have helmet, mess kit and canteen set for $2.50.

Weapons at Zinder's may be found in Park's watergun selection which has the wee-gee, de-gee, lu-gee, luger, 250 repeater and sub-machine gun. Take cover, now! Prices range from 19 to 40 cents.

When they come home from the playground, they can play table tether ball. A two-foot pole rises from the center of a varnished wooden court 18 inches long. There's a whiffle ball the size of a golf ball tied to the pole, and two wooden paddles to whang it with.

Beach combers will want the space ship that is funnel, pail and sieve, all compact in one rocket-shaped toy. There is a little rake, too, and a scoop. The toys are polyethelene.

A stubby sand plane is actually an airplane shaped basket with holes here and there to sift the sand. The plane has wheels, too, so you can pull it around the boardwalk.

News Of The Theatres

THE ETERNAL WAIT

"Waiting for Godot" Opens. "All mankind is us, whether we like it or not . . ." The vehement words of Samuel Beckett's Vladimir unlock the door to the riddle of "Waiting for Godot," a play of almost unbearable beauty and perception, filled with hope and despair and a kind of exasperated tenderness for "the fool brood" called man.

The University Players' production of "Waiting for Godot" opened Tuesday and will continue through Saturday at Murray Theater.

David Sawyer has produced and directed a difficult play with remarkable success. In the curt, monosyllabic exchanges between Vladimir and his friend, Estragon, he has maintained the pace that caused Walter Kerr to refer to "Godot" as a "cerebral tennis match."

He has made his actors move, almost more than Beckett indicated, so that the production is never static. Even his two, resigned figures at the end of the first act seem to contain within their motionless forms the promise of what will come next.

The small cast responds to this direction. If Philip Minor as the articulate Vladimir seems to edge out James Harder as Estragon, it may be simply that he has more to say. Mr. Minor, as an actor, is much more sure of himself than Mr. Harder, more in control of his facial expressions (and, on opening night at least, more in control of his lines). Minor has a tendency toward the foppish gesture, but Mr. Sawyer's direction has kept this to a minimum.

Mr. Harder, as the Estragon who sleeps and knows nothing, is well-cast and he makes the most of the low comedy bits that are a part of the characterization. He has a way of twisting thumbs and forefingers together to indicate agitation and this one mannerism is an irritating distraction in the generally harmonious conception of his part.

It is John Wynne-Evans as Lucky who has drawn the lucky role in "Godot." To begin with, Margot Williamson's costuming has arrayed him with tattered splendor in the rags, the broken shoes and the chain collar of slavery. Wynne-Evans then goes on to create a stark and horrifying portrait of the slave who has been beaten into a kind of lunatic sanity. His solo speech, a Joycean monologue, is one of the most memorable moments in the play.

Nick Savian as Pozzo the slave driver, conveys arrogance, pettishness and despair with equal skill. His fussy concern about how to seat oneself again after one has risen without "appearing to falter," provides one of "Godot's" few genuinely light moments.

For this play, spoken of as a "tragicomedy," is a heart-breaking work. In it, as Pozzo says, "the light gleams an instant, then it's night once more." The audience in Murray Theater laughed perhaps too much and some of the laughter was uneasy. Are these lines and these pratfalls really funny, or are they wry, or are they so terrible that to laugh is blasphemy?

"Godot" is not an easy play to fathom. To the credit of both author and director, however, the present production is intensely absorbing even when the play is most obscure. It is a play which demands that its audience think and feel at the same time, and most modern plays ask only an emotional response. Perhaps this is the reason people find it difficult.

Who is Godot, for example? He keeps sheep and goats and has a white beard and beyond that we know very little. But the protagonists are mankind and the play is life itself with its boredom and its waiting, its hopeless inability of people to communicate with each other even when they are close, its cynicism, its beauty and above all, its obscurity.

And if "Waiting for Godot" is life, then perhaps the most sapient comment on it is that of a woman emerging from Murray Theater at intermission time: "If you don't understand it now, wait'll you don't understand it at the end."

Some people spend their lives tasting tea. They know tea. Other people spend their lives buying, selling, examining and studying furniture. They know furniture. They can't help it. Furniture is their life. They eat, breathe, sleep and talk furniture. That is why every piece of furniture on MANNING'S famous floors has passed this test: is it in good taste? is the workmanship up to the MANNING standard? are the materials top notch? is it a good value? This incessant editing of the whole furniture market is your protection. The MANNING staff is made up of sound, seasoned furniture men who take a personal interest in your problems. They are invisible when you don't want them . . . and right at your elbow when you do want them. The way to buy furniture . . . even in a big mid-summer sale . . . is never to be pressured into a quick purchase. The only way to buy furniture is to browse leisurely on the floors of a store which offers exquisite taste at moderate prices. Because, as we say, "You'll find it costs no more from a fine store." And MANNING'S knows that good taste in fine furniture is never the extreme. Neither an antiquated concoction of frills and curves . . . nor a bleak space-age set of triangles and squares. MANNING'S believes that a house should put its arms around you. That is why we like to break the Spartan sterness of contemporary design with the lovely softening graciousness of traditional. Seldom will you find the flossiest, glossiest furniture lines reduced. But in MANNING'S great mid-summer sale, you will find all of these famous makes offered at rare savings. Take Heritage or Kling or Valley; take Pennsylvania House or Henredon . . . and you have furniture that's hard to beat . . . and harder to find on sale.

DADDY'S CHAIR: What would you do if you were Mayor of Princeton? Three-year-old David Male has big plans as he sits in the chair belonging to his father, Borough Mayor Raymond F. Male. His sister Sarah, 6½, is content to watch because she doesn't think a woman could be a good chief executive. Her reason: "I like Daddy better." Other Princetonians give their reactions to the question on this page. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: What would you do if you were Mayor of Princeton?

Where asked: Around town.

Lloyd L. Fletcher, 197 Witherspoon Street, transportation director, ETS: I'd do something about all these parking meters. I don't have a solution, but if I were mayor I'd look into it and see if I couldn't do something for the people who work in town. It's a real financial hardship.

Mrs. Bernard Weinstein, 86 Nassau Street, wife of proprietor of Princeton Stationers: What Ray Male is doing is exactly what I'd do. I think he's doing a very good job.

Howard Wood, Monmouth Junction, clerk, Cox's Store, 180 Nassau Street: There isn't enough parking for the businessmen. I'd take steps to get every bit of land I could for parking purposes. If they don't buy it now they'll never get it. There isn't much land left. To me, that's the most important problem in Princeton.

Irvin Urkeo, aged 8½, of 416 Nassau Street: I'd build a law enforcement agency like the FBI in Princeton to keep it a peaceful town. It's pretty peaceful now, but it could be peacefuller. There are still some men wanted for robbery. I saw their pictures at Borough Hall.

Mrs. Michael McCloskey, 11 Charlton Street, housewife: I certainly would put a ceiling price on rents in Princeton. The rents are ridiculous for working men. If you don't make big money, how are you going to pay $90 or $100 a month. It's impossible.

Lewis Robeson, 13 Green Street, bootblack, Nassau Barber Shop: I'd try to make things better around here. Housing is the main thing, and we also need a detour to keep the trucks out of the middle of town. When they had meetings, I'd be there to make suggestions.

David Male, age 3, 76 Cedar Lane, son of Mayor Raymond F. Male: I'd go to work and do work. (Reporter: What does your daddy do?) He goes to work and does nothing.

Sarah Male, age 6½, daughter of Mayor Male: A lady couldn't be a good mayor. I like Daddy better.

Hans H. Kopper, 106 Nassau Street, post-doctoral research associate, Princeton University: I would keep people from putting up too many developments. I have seen areas made desolate by these developments. Where it is necessary to build homes I would avoid taking down trees and try to keep Princeton as beautiful as it is.

Jack Sutphen, Brunswick Pike, security guard, Project Matterhorn: The Mayor is a pretty nice kind of guy. I've had conversations with him and I've met him a couple of times. I think he's doing a good job and I'd do just about what he's doing.

Will Lyons, Haverford, Pa., Ford Fellow at Princeton for summer: Traffic and parking looks pretty well on the side streets, but the first thing that strikes a visitor is that the main street is choked up. Perhaps Nassau Street could be widened, but you wouldn't want to destroy the trees to do it.

There Oughta Be a Law

Since the beginning of history people have passed spare hours conjecturing what they'd do "if I were king." TOWN TOPICS brought the question down to the local level this week and asked a group of area residents what they would do if they were Mayor of Princeton.

Two of those asked happened, not quite by accident, to be children of Borough Mayor Raymond F. Male. While Sarah, 6½, didn't think a lady mayor would be a good idea, David, 3, was more forthright, saying he'd "go to work and do work." Already campaigning for the post, he took the opportunity to add that the present incumbent "goes to work and does nothing."

Lest Mayor Male be troubled by these signs of incipient political opposition within the family, it should be pointed out that two of his older constituents said they'd do "just what Ray Male is doing." For these and other questions, see this page.

Obituaries

Archibald A. Gulick, 82, a partner in the New York law firm of Alexander & Green, and a trustee of Princeton University, died July 11 at his home, 26 Mercer Street.

Mr. Gulick graduated from Princeton University in 1897 and received his master's degree here two years later. After graduating cum laude from New York Law School in 1901, he joined Alexander & Green, and became a partner in 1919. He was admitted to the New Jersey bar in 1909.

A trustee of Princeton since 1939, Mr. Gulick had been active in alumni affairs and served on the grounds and buildings committee, the committee on undergraduate life, the committee on finance, and others. At the 40th reunion of his class in 1937 he endowed an undergraduate scholarship in memory of his friend and classmate, the late Henry Everitt Mattison. In return, Mr. Mattison's son, Graham D. Mattison, a New York investment banker, in 1956 set up a $100,000 Archibald A. Gulick Fellowship Fund in the university's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

Mr. Gulick was a director of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, and vice-president, treasurer and a director of the Homestake Mining Company. He belonged to several clubs, including the Nassau, University Cottage, Nassau Gun and Pretty Brook in Princeton.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon in the University Chapel. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery. There are no immediate survivors.

Mrs. Grace Jones McClure, 82, died July 12 of a heart attack at Merwick. Widow of former Princeton University biologist Dr. Charles F. W. McClure. She had lived for many years at 1 Battle Road.

Mrs. McClure was headmistress of the Columbus, O., School for Girls from 1904 to 1927 and was a member of its board of trustees for more than 50 years. Her husband, who died in 1948, headed the relief expedition to Labrador in 1909 to meet Admiral Robert E. Peary.

Mrs. McClure leaves her sister, Mrs. John E. Porter of Nova Scotia; two step-sisters, Mrs. Eugene Byrne of Princeton and Mrs. Leila MacDonald of Columbus, O., and a nephew, Dr. E. H. Dudley Johnson, professor of English at Princeton University. Funeral services were private, with burial at the convenience of the family.

John P. Alden, 49, of 181 North Harrison Street, died July 7 in Princeton Hospital. A Princeton resident for two years, he was manager of the technical information service at Food Machinery and Chemical Corporation.

He was superintendent of the intermediate department of the Princeton Methodist Church's Sunday School, and was active in the Community Fund.

A graduate of Oklahoma City University in 1931 with a BA degree, he received his Master of Science in 1933 from Oklahoma University. He was a member of the American Chemical Society.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Florence Sheppard Alden; a son, Ramon Alden; two daughters, Janice Alden and Carolyn Alden; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Alden of Wellston, Okla.; and a sister, Mrs. Ed Taylor of Tulsa, Okla.

The service was held in the Princeton Methodist Church, with the Rev. Charles W. Marker, pastor, officiating. Interment was at the convenience of the family. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Carl C. Blydenburgh, 42, of the Lawrenceville Road, died July 8 in Princeton Hospital after a long illness. He was foreman of the Princeton Township road department until his retirement in February of this year, and had lived in Princeton all his life.

His survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruth I. Blydenburgh; two daughters, Mrs. George Jansen of Trenton and Miss Alice Blydenburgh of Princeton; two sons, David Blydenburgh of Princeton and Carl Blydenburgh of Lawrenceville; his mother, Mrs. Anna C. Blydenburgh of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Mary Kiefer of Princeton; three brothers, Elwood Blydenburgh of Princeton, Luther Blydenburgh of Trenton, and Lewis Blydenburgh of Kings Park, N.Y.; and three grandchildren.

The Rev. Robert L. Blackwell, pastor of the Plainsboro Presbyterian Church, officated at the service which was held at the Kimble Funeral Home. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Estelle N. Farnham, 75, of 132 Snowden Lane, died Friday in Princeton Hospital following a long illness. Wife of the late Frederick S. Farnham and a former superintendant of the Old Man's Home in Philadelphia, she had lived in Princeton for the past six years.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, of Princeton; a stepdaughter, Miss Alice D. Farnham, of New York City; two grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. C. F. Squire, of Atlanta, Ga. The funeral was held at Trinity Episcopal Church and interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Miss Amelia Lytle, 89, of 18 North Stanworth Drive, died July 7. Born in Princeton, she was an alumna of Wellesley College.

She is survived by four cousins. The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home with Dr. Richard K. Toner of Trinity Episcopal Church officiatng. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Frank L. Pierce, Sr., 72, died July 10 in Thayer Hospital, Waterville, Me. A retired post office official, he lived at 7 Madison Street.

Mr. Pierce began his career as a special delivery boy for the post office department in Wichita, Kan., after which he became a railway postal clerk and later advanced to Post Office Inspector in charge of the St. Paul, Minn.,

The story of the Shriners and their hospitals for crippled children.

By Fred VanDeventer, 32°
Crescent Temple

Numbering among their members many of the continent's most distinguished citizens, the Shriners now march over 800,000 strong. Parade to Glory tells their splendid story from 1870 through 1958 with the verve that is typical of this colorful force in American life. Here are the great and leading personalities of the Shrine and the events that have influenced Shrine history and the story of the development of the hospitals for crippled children, available to all needy patients, regardless of race or creed.

The author of Parade to Glory is himself a Shriner and is the Imperial Historian of the organization. He is most widely known as a news commentator and as a star of the radio and TV program, "Twenty Questions." In Parade to Glory he combines a proud delight in Shrine history with a reporter's instinct for a good story—which is, indeed, the ultimate recommendation for this unique and highly entertaining volume.

POLL UNDER WAY

On Gifts to United Fund. A question that appears likely to create considerable controversy was posed this week to its members by the Princeton Business Association.

Should the United Community Fund release for publication the names of all contributors and the amounts given? A postcard poll of the PBA membership is being conducted, and results will be announced within the next fortnight.

Other communities in the United States make it a practice to list the gifts received from business and professional firms solicited by Community Chest or United Fund representatives. In some instances, the list does not merely include those who give but all potential business donors in the area. If no gift is forthcoming, the firm name is printed alone.

Ralph S. Mason, representing the United Fund in Princeton, has discussed the matter with PBA trustees. The postcard survey is the result of the meeting.

In announcing the proposal to its membership, the PBA reports that it is under consideration because of "inadequate contributions by many who benefit materially from the multiple services of the Fund." Some businesses do not give at all, it was reported; "others have given in such small amounts that the future of the services supported by the Fund are handicapped.

A decision to publish names and contributions in the business category would set a marked precedent in Princeton. Heretofore, occasional sizeable gifts have been made public, and an "honor roll," recognizing high employee participation or a marked company increase, has been published.

The Association reports progress in preparing a credit risk file, in which Princeton area residents who have consistently failed to meet their obligations on time will be listed. Members are contributing information from their records to the file, and those who have not yet forwarded the fact sheets supplied are asked to do so.

Publication later this summer is planned of a brochure which will "help sell Princeton" to the tourist and the prospective resident. Some 10,000 copies will be distributed.

JOHNSON NAMED MANAGER

Of RCA Division. Edward O. Johnson, 231 Snowden Lane, was appointed manager of advanced development, RCA Semiconductor and Materials Division last week. He will succeed Dr. D. M. Webster who has been named administrative engineer on the staff of the vice president of RCA Laboratories.

The author of 15 technical papers, Mr. Johnson has had 12 patents issued in his name, and received two RCA Achievement Awards. While in the Navy during World War II, he developed a new type of test equipment for rapid flight deck tests of communications equipment during the Okinawa campaign.

Since joining RCA Laboratories in 1948, he has engaged in research concerning gas discharge in electron tubes and various areas of the semiconductor field. He graduated from Pratt Institute with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering and has studied at Princeton University and the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich.

PRESIDENTIAL AIDE NAMED

Robinson Appointed at McLean. James G. Robinson, Province Line Road, has been appointed technical assistant to the president of McLean Engineering Laboratories and company procurement director. Mr. Robinson has been for nine years director of procurement and government contract administration for the Applied Science Corporation of Princeton.

From 1948 to 1950, he was contract administrator for the New York office of the AEC, negotiating with industry for the development of nuclear weapons. Prior to that, he was a research assistant in physics on various government projects and an instructor in electrical engineering.

DR. McCUNE APPOINTED

To A.R.A.P. Staff. Dr. James E. McCune, has been appointed to the senior staff of Aeronautical Research Associates of Princeton. He will conduct research in the general area of applied physics, with emphasis on fluid mechanics and magneto-hydrodynamics.

Dr. McCune has been a member of the Cornell University faculty since 1957, and a consultant in the areas of gas dynamics and magneto-hydrodynamics to several leading industrial concerns before joining A.R.A.P. in June as Associate Consultant. He graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1953 and received his Ph.D. from Cornell in aeronautical engineering in February, 1958.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK — I

This is the first of a series of four articles on Princeton football prospects for 1959.

Positions Open. When a subpar freshmen football team arrives on the campus, considerable gloom exists and those close to the sport wonder out loud how a first division Ivy finish can be achieved if the material doesn't improve quickly. By the same token, when a class whose football players have not played a major part in success at the varsity level for three years departs from the scene, replacement problems do not loom as insurmountable as in other seasons.

The Class of 1959, just recently equipped with diplomas, had a few standout players but never possessed depth. As freshmen, it won only two of six games; as seniors, only four of its members were starters. By contrast, the wail of anguish when the Princeton Class of 1960 graduates will be heard in New Haven and northward to Hanover: as many as nine of its members are likely to hold down starting positions for the Tigers this fall.

A look at the pre-Blairstown lineup will serve as the basis for another article in this series; meanwhile, these are the personnel losses by graduation (11) and by injury (1) from the squad:

Ends: For the second year in a row, only one end graduated, leaving this the best fortified position on the squad. Bob Shepardson, 6-4, 195, a two-year letterman who was always of value in a reserve capacity, will be missing from the left side of the line.

Tackles: Five players at this position picked up their diplomas and a sixth will have to forego the sport because of injury. Two of the six are major losses: Gene Forelone, a rugged 215 pounds, and Frank Schultz, no more than 195 but blessed with all sorts of potential.

Forelone was a three-year letterman who saw a great deal of action at tackle. Schultz quickly caught the coaches' eyes as a sophomore but even in mid-season of that year was forced to the sidelines with recurring headaches. The same hard-to-diagnose malady benched him last fall for most of the season and this year, doctors have determined that he must forego further action. The other quartet, all weighing about 210, consists of George Johnson, Charlie Krick, Bob Rock and Jim Henderson, with Johnson Forelone's immediate replacement.

Guards: The biggest loss, possibly of all the departed seniors, hardly figured to earn that distinction when the squad reported to Blairstown last September. Just another jayvee for two seasons, Joe DeDeo developed in a manner that surprised and delighted Dick Colman and line coach Bob Pflug. Week after week, Colman's post-game interviews included a "big word of praise for Joe D.," and as the 1959 season nears, it will be a tough task to fill his shoes at right guard Paul Warwick, who began the season at the other guard slot but finished in a reserve capacity behind Barry Bates and Stan Baldwin, and Howie Hudson, a converted center, also have completed their careers.

JOB TO FILL: After three years, Princeton will be looking for a new starting fullback to replace Captain Fred Tiley.

Centers: None.

Backs: Two of the five who have gone were starters last fall, with Captain Fred Tiley holding down the fullback position for every game over a three-year period save the final four of his sophomore season, when a fractured collarbone sidelined him. Last fall, he averaged 4.0 yards per carry and scored six touchdowns.

Gone, too, is triple-threat Johnny Heyd, one of Princeton's standout athletes of recent years. In addition to wresting the starting wingback position from the capable Mike Iseman, Heyd could play tailback if necessary and was so outstanding in lacrosse that he won All-American rating.

Gene Locks, always a capable fill-in at quarterback, particularly insofar as his field generalship went, has also left, weakening the depth at this position. Tailbacks Ray "Splinter" Empson and George Fox, the latter a jayvee for most of his career, were the other backs to go.

The foregoing shows that seven of the 11 regulars from the team that chased Dartmouth to the wire in the 1958 Ivy League race will be on hand again this season. Forcione at tackle, DeDeo at guard, Tiley and Heyd in the backfield must be replaced, while added depth is necessary at certain line positions and wingback and quarterback in the secondary.

To a degree, these problems are much the same as those which faced Colman last September—no sooner does he have them solved in workable fashion than June and graduation come along once more. Next week, Town Topics will take a look at the sophomores moving into the varsity picture as members of the Class of 1962.

MATHEY WINS TENNIS TITLE

Whips Paul Bouquin. Don Mathey captured the Men's Community Tennis title with an easy 6-1, 6-2 victory over Paul Bouquin Saturday on Church Courts. The unseeded Bouquin, giant-killer of the tourney, eliminated top-ranked Marty Katz, 8-6, 6-3, and third-seeded Dr. H. Yale Tyler, 7-5, 1-6, 6-4, on his way to the finals.

Mathey, fourth-seeded, pulled off an upset of his own in beating Irvin Vas, 6-2, 6-3, in the semi-finals. Vas was second rated. The finals were postponed from Friday when rain washed out the scheduled play.

POST 76 DROPS TWO

As First Half Play Ends. Princeton Post 76 rounded out the first half of the Mercer County American Legion Baseball League by losing a 7-3 decision to loop-leading Trenton Post 93 Schroths Saturday on University Field. On Wednesday, Princeton bowed, 13-5, before Lambertville Post 120.

The Schroths wrapped up the first half championship with their victory and earned a place in the Legion State Tournament. Bobby Crossland making his first mound appearance of the year, choked off a Princeton rally and blanked the home team for 3 2-3 innings to nail down the victory.

Trenton scored the eventual winning run in the fifth inning when DeGeorge singled, stole second, and scored on Denny Burns' single to right. That made the score 4-2, but Post 76 bounced back in its half of the sixth, loading the bases with one out and knocking out Kenny Harle. Crossland got the side out, though a run scored on Boyd Bergen's ground out.

The Schroths put the game on ice with two tallies in the eighth, aided by the Princeton infield, and rounded out the scoring with a solo marker in the ninth. Winding up with a 9-3 record, a game ahead of Hamilton Post 31, Trenton won its sixth consecutive first half crown. It has won 19 state championships out of 26 races entered.

Lambertville fell on Dick Olsen and Chuck Kenyon for 11 runs in the second and third innings to put the game away early. Bruce Sandvik (see "We Congratulate") came in and pitched 3 2-3 mop-up innings, giving up only one run, but Post 120 was out of reach. Princeton scored five unearned runs in the fifth frame, as John Monteleone pitched two-hit ball and drove in four runs with three hits.

The schedule for the second half of the campaign will get under way without the Schroths who will be in the state competition. The second-half winner will take on Trenton in a series at the end of the season to determine the 1959 champion.

CLARKSVILLE ROUTS ETS

Ray Baston Wins, 10-3. Clarksville Diner returned to the victory column Wednesday after being upset a week ago by losing ETS 10-3 in Girls Softball League action. Ellie Sanler, June Harris, Sandy Bertrand and Annie Greif led the hitting assault for the winners who jumped to a 7-2 lead after two frames and were never headed.

Jerry Meyers and Betty Kostue each collected two hits in three turns for ETS which fell deeper into the cellar. The scheduled game between Town Topics and Thorne's was postponed and will be played Monday.

NASSAU OIL TOPS BOWERS

In Junior Baseball Opener. The Junior Baseball League opened its season Thursday with Nassau Oil coming from behind to defeat the Bowers Construction Company, 7-3.

Enos Lerone blasted a home run in the first for the losers, but pitcher Frank "Smoky" Black steadied and set Bowers down while his teammates pecked away at Bob Swinnerton for the winning markers. Gary Grover paced Nassau Oil by garnering three hits, while 13-year-old Gip Ferrara celebrated a perfect day with two hits in two trips to the plate.

The second scheduled game in the 13-15 year old league was rained out on Friday. Matthews Construction Company had been scheduled to meet the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

In very few other activities is the cliche, "Practice makes perfect," more deeply rooted in fact than it is in the development of a baseball player. There is no substitute for playing ball if a youngster expects to gain proficiency in the sport. These statements are so axiomatic that it hardly seems necessary to repeat them, yet for too many budding ball players, baseball is a sometime thing—very often played during the brief eight-week school season.

A notable exception to all this is Bruce Sandvik, blond, 17-year-old infielder-pitcher for both the Princeton Athletic Club and Post 76, American Legion. He is captain of the Legion squad. He feels this organized summer play—often as many as four games a week—keeps him in shape for athletics at Princeton High School, where he plays football and basketball, as well as baseball.

During the day, when there's ordinarily no one around with whom to play, Bruce spends his time as an assistant playground director in Griggstown. One of his duties teaching youngsters to play ball. "I just love the game—that's all," he says.

Most ballplayers have one particular playing moment they remember above all others. For Bruce, that moment came a week ago as the PAC. fought South Brunswick into an extra inning with the score knotted at 3-3. With two out and runners on second and third Bruce took a 3-2 count and then smashed the ball into deep left field to score the winning run.

"It was probably the best-hit ball of the season," player-manager Pete Cook said of the blast. "It would have been a home run if we had needed it."

Although the hit was a dramatic example of Sandvik's ability, his real forte is his defensive work, both in the infield and, occasionally, on the pitcher's mound. "He's a very smooth, reliable fielder," Cook said. "He's done well in the field every game he's played."

Jack Houghton, coach of the Post 76 team, shares Cook's enthusiasm. "Bruce is a fine leader," he said. "He has wonderful team spirit. A good example was last Saturday's game, when the catcher injured his hand. Bruce had never caught before but he stepped in and took over. There aren't many fellows who would risk looking bad at a position they'd never played before, for the good of the team."

YMCA CAMP FULL

But August Vacancies Exist. Ralph S. Mason, president of the Central New Jersey YMCA Camps, has announced that parents who wish to send their daughters to the girls camp during the period from August 15-29 should register rapidly before the enrollment is full. The boys' camp has already exceeded 100 percent of its capacity, Mr. Mason said.

Some 159 youngsters are currently enjoying a two-week session at the camp which offers swimming, canoeing, nature hikes and overnight trips on the Appalachian Trail. Classes in electronics and arts and crafts are included on the program. Nearly one-third of the boys who attended the first two-week program have stayed on for an extra two weeks, overcrowding the camp. Measures are being taken, however, to handle the overflow.

News Of The CHURCHES

BULLETIN NOTES

Conferences Held. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Pehta, members of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, will attend the International Convention and Leaders Conference of the Lutheran Laymen's League in Buffalo, N. Y., from Sunday to Wednesday. Mr. Pehta is vice president and membership chairman of the Mid-Atlantic District of the Lutheran Laymen's League.

Mrs. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer, wife of the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, has been attending the sixth annual National Women's Conference of the American Baptist, Green Lake, Wis., this week. She is one of more than 350 women at the conference. The delegates are studying the problems of the Christian Church and what part women should have in the church.

Vacation School Ends. The Calvary Baptist Church's Vacation Bible school will climax its summer session Thursday at 7 p.m. with a program at which the classes will demonstrate what they have learned. The school opened on July 7 and will close Friday.

Each department will present a program dedicated to its summer activities. Exhibitions of creative activities, songs, and Bible verses will be on the program.

On Monday evening Calvary Church will hold a church picnic to which all members and friends of the church are invited. The picnic will take place in Marquand Park, marking the first time the church has held its picnic in Princeton. Families are requested to bring their own supper. Mrs. Thurland T. Wilkinson is chairman of the committee in charge of the picnic.

The Christian Science Sunday School will continue to meet during the summer months at 29 Witherspoon Street at 11 a.m. each Sunday. The Sunday School classrooms at 16 Bayard Lane are now being remodeled.

Sports In Princeton

HOCKEY COACH NAMED

Wood to Succeed Vaughan. R. Norman Wood, who came here last fall as assistant coach of hockey, has been named head coach in the sport. He will succeed Richard F. Vaughan, who has asked to be relieved of the assignment he has held since 1935.

Captain of Harvard's Ivy League championship team during his senior year in 1954, Wood at 28 becomes one of the youngest head coaches in Princeton athletic history. He also led his team at St. Marks School, and at both school and college was voted the most valuable player on the team.

Vaughan will continue his coaching career at Princeton, remaining in charge of the 150-lb. football and freshman baseball teams. His Princeton hockey teams won championships in 1941 and 1953, while he won the Eastern Intercollegiate title in football five years ago.

A graduate of Yale in 1928, he coached at Phillips Andover Academy and at Yale before coming to Princeton. During his years in Baltimore, he also participated in coaching teams from Lawrenceville and Princeton Country Day School.

PAC SWITCHES DIAMONDS

To Play at University Field. The Princeton Athletic Club has been granted permission by R. Kenneth Fairman, the University's Director of Athletics, to play the remaining games of its 1959 season on University Field. The new location, more central that the high school diamond, is expected to increase interest in the team's bid for the Tri-County League title.

The first game at University Field will be played Friday at 6:15, with South Brunswick Township providing the opposition in a game rescheduled after Tuesday's rain. Another home contest is set for next Thursday, July 23, against league-leading Montgomery.

Victories over Princetna and South Brunswick in its last two games have given Montgomery a good hold on first place. Chuck Brogan, strapping southpaw who heads the pace-setters' pitching staff, hurled a 3-1 victory over PAC last Thursday as Jack Lackey took the loss. On Monday, Montgomery thumped South Brunswick, 13 to 3.

Last Friday's make-up game with South Brunswick was also a victim of the weather, and will be rescheduled at a later date. The regular season ends August 10, with playoffs to follow:

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Montgomery	6	1	.857
Princeton	3	3	.500
So. Brunswick	1	6	.143

SPORTSMEN ROLL ON

As Kahny Wins 14th. Maintaining his record of having pitched every inning for his team this season, Harry Kahny last week hurled the Sportsmen's Club to a 15-2 triumph over Teague's & Burton's. Tuesday night's rain stopped the pace-setters, but their 1959 record now stands at a sparkling 14 and 2.

Tony Freda threw goose eggs at Pete & Mike's in the other action last week, hanging up a 3-0 triumph. Sannino's, increasing its hold on second place as it moved above the .500 mark, pushed across two in the second and another in the sixth. Sannino's is now 7 and 6. Teague and Burton's 4 and 9, and Pete and Mike's 4 and 12.

GOLF STARTS IN RAIN

Four Springdale Entrants. Match play in the Garden State Women's Golf Tournament began Tuesday in steady rain as three out of four women from the Springdale Golf Club survived first-round play. Mrs. James Whelan, bidding to become the first "home" golfer ever to capture the crown, led the advance with a 7 and 6 victory over Mrs. Laurence Lacey of Plainfield.

Mrs. Warga and Mrs. Hans Bauer also gained the second round. Mrs. Warga eliminated Mrs. Joseph Rudnick, of Jumping Brook, 2 and 1, while Mrs. Bauer drew a first-round bye. Mrs. Warga and Mrs. Whelan finished second and third in Monday's medal play, shooting 82 and 83, respectively.

Mrs. Marge Mason, of Ridgewood, a three-time winner of the tourney, was the medalist with a 79 and then captured her first-round match with a 7 and 6 victory over Mrs. Richard Newman of Twin Brooks. Mrs. Mason shot a 9-hole 35 against Mrs. Newman and was one under par for 12 holes at the match's end. She collected three birdies and lost only one hole.

Springdale women's champion for seven years, Mrs. Whelan stayed within three strokes of par in her first round match, wrapping it up on the 12th green. Mrs. Donald Strachan of Springdale was the only home golfer to lose, bowing to Mrs. Philip Foote, of Maplewood, 4 and 3. The finals will be played Friday.

contemporary living at its finest

Financing Arranged to Suit Your Needs

TWIN OAKS HOMES HAVE BEEN JUDGED AND CERTIFIED BY McCALL'S MAGAZINE

NO TWO ALIKE!

So you're looking for a home in the Princeton area! By all means, visit the spacious 100-acre TWIN OAKS location, just off Route 206 between Princeton and Lawrenceville.

Designed by Victor Olgyay, well-known Princeton architect, these delightful homes are correctly placed with regard to sun and breeze.

Here is to be found the finest in contemporary style homes in the Princeton-Lawrenceville area. The above picture shows one of these types. Many acres of carefully restricted home sites are available. They are all over 1½ acres.

This is the only place in this whole area where every home is architecturally planned, and every home will be of the contemporary style. House plans are carefully selected.

TWIN OAKS is conveniently located to all the big centers of research and engineering, as well as educational and church facilities.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION

Mon. to Fri. 4:30 - 9 p.m.; Sat. 10 a.m. - 7 p.m.; Sun. 11 a.m. - 7 p.m.

Picture yourself the owner of the handsome contemporary-type home shown here, already built at TWIN OAKS and ready for you to move in. It is complete in every detail, with all necessary utilities. Shrubbery is in place, and the entire plot landscaped and seeded. Underground electric and telephone service eliminates unsightly wires.

Modern design and expert planning give this home the individuality you want even to the point of colored telephones to match the decor of each room. An entrance foyer leads directly to the spacious living room with cathedral-type beamed ceiling and stone fireplace. The floor is hardwood throughout. One whole sidewall of glass looks out on an attractive patio. The dining area opens directly off the living room. There is ready exit to the carport and utility room.

Three large bedrooms, with ample closet space and two complete bathrooms assure the utmost in comfort. The kitchen is a dream of modern conveniences — nothing is lacking for efficient service. The "family room" just off the kitchen affords privacy when needed.

In short, nowhere in this area can you find a handsomer, more comfortable place to live. A TWIN OAKS home is an indication of prestige that will increase with every passing year.

Our tale of a new type of house that provides more space for less bucks is dull stuff for mansion dwellers. But if you're not averse to spending money wisely and you rather like the idea of plenty of room and light and air — inside as well as out, then let's talk. We'd like to explain and show you our concept of a new type of light-hearted living that we deeply believe in — the Techbuilt House.

"House Hunting?" . . .
People With a Sense of Style Are Buying In Princeton Manor

Children can romp in the spacious surrounding woods, Mother will delight in the convenience to shopping and schools, and Father will appreciate the solid construction of our homes as a wise capital gains hedge against inflation.

The Princeton Manor Construction Co. will build from your ideas, your architect's plans, or from over 200 designs in our files. Locally owned and managed, the Princeton Manor Construction Co. is currently building fifteen to twenty custom-built homes a year in Central New Jersey. Consult our list of building sites in the Princeton area. You may use your lot as all or part of the down payment on your new home. A few of our extra services are unusually favorable financing and free consultation with an interior decorator.

THE JOB THAT

CAN'T BE FILLED . .

Can there be, in the whole wide world, a girl comely in face and figure, tactful on phone and in person, and skilled in the secretarial and administrative practices that are concomitant with the title of Senior Secretary?

Could such a paragon be free from dislike of things technical; nay, might she be willing to learn the language of engineering?

If she exists, we probably can't persuade her to work for our new Chief Engineer* for $85 or more a week. But if she calls SWinburne 8-1000 and asks for Personnel we will try.

Elegant — Yet Informal

Custom Built Homes In Princeton's Western Section

Just Minutes From Town on Princeton Pike Mercer Road

These homes are custom built in the true sense of the word with an eye to the finite details that go to make for a truly custom home, and of course, provisions were made for complete air-conditioning. All houses are on lots of over an acre completely and individually landscaped and have oversized two-car garages. These homes are priced at close to builder's cost and well below the market.

80-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a lovely high lot. Enter a large, gracious reception foyer; then see the spacious living room with a fireplace and lovely bow picture window - a mahogany panelled den with large glass sliding doors to your garden - full sized dining room and a separate breakfast room, bath with picture bow windows - an extremely modern kitchen with all built in appliances - laundry room - 3 oversized bedrooms - 2½ baths - and a full basement. Priced below market $33,500.

2-Story Colonial - 4 bedrooms - 2 baths and a guest powder room - delightful living room with glass sliding doors leading to an outdoor dining patio - and a dream kitchen completely equipped to make your mundane daily chores a pleasant daily interlude. Priced to sell quickly. $44,500.

94-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a corner lot - 3 larg th with double basin vanity - e and built in bookcases - pa oom - separate breakfast room d a completely equipped made a large basement. Nothing in the area like it at $44,500.

SOLD

2-Story Southern Colonial - (Under Construction) - majestically sitting in a group of lovely old trees atop a knoll with its 2 story white columns on a 40 foot portice against a background of old brick is a picture home one must see. 4 oversized bedrooms - 2 baths and a beautifully appointed guest powder room - large living room with a fireplace - mahogany panelled library - full dining room - separate breakfast room - fully equipped kitchen with all birch cabinets and a large laundry and utility room - also a full basement. This home priced at $47,500 is probably Princeton's biggest bargain.

Open House — Saturdays and Sundays 1:30 - 5:00 P.M., or can be seen by appointment. Just 'phone New York City, Oxford 7-3646 (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.) or Princeton, Walnut 1-6592 (Eve.) or contact your own broker.

Facts on Your Summer Vitamin Needs

Even though the sunshine and many fresh vegetables of the summer months are health-giving assets in your life, daily use of vitamins should not be discontinued. Hot weather tends to decrease your daily intake of food, which should then be supplemented with vitamins. Excessive perspiration also indicates a need for B vitamins as a water soluble aid.

THE THORNE PHARMACY recommends for you and your family:

ABDOL WITH MINERALS FOR CHILDREN—A formula tailored to aid the health of youngsters in hot weather ..... per hundred $2.59

ABDOL WITH MINERALS—A general maintenance formula that contains 10 vitamins and 11 minerals ..... per hundred $3.89

GERIPLEX—Preventative maintenance formula for those 35 and over ..... per hundred $6.75

MYADEC—High potency vitamins. Mineral formula contains nine vitamins and 11 minerals ..... per hundred $9.67
